Chances Of Quick End Of Strikes Developes

Lewis Calls War Council Of UMW

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Chances of a quick break in the coal strike developed tonight as peace hopes skyrocketed in steel.

Beaming Philip Murray told the entire steel industry to come on and join trail blazing Bethlehem Steel Company in settlement of the nationwide steel strike.

Then John L. Lewis jumped into the picture by calling a war council of his United Mine Workers to consider coal strike developments.

Summons Policy Committee

Lewis summoned his policy committee to meet next Monday in Chicago to consider all aspects of the 43-day mine shutdown. Rumors have had an early settlement possible with Illinois coal producers.

From Washington came hints of Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching that he hopes to use the Bethlehem steel settlement to force peace in both coal and steel.

Ching threw fuel on the blaze of optimism over the strikes by predicting other steel company settlements "pretty soon."

Favorable company reaction to the Bethlehem plan spurred hopes both coal and steel walkouts soon will crumble and loosen the stranglehold on America's economy.

Several firms including the giant U.S. Steel corporation, Jones and Laughlin and Youngstown sheet and tube, stood ready to resume negotiations with the union immediately.

Ching also hinted he may call coal operators and Lewis' mine workers to Washington later this week for talks aimed at ending the walkout of 380,000 soft coal diggers.

Lewis' war council call came after resumption of coal negotiations with southern operators amid hopes the steel developments will spur progress.

Some sources thought more steel settlements might speed government intervention in the mine walkout.

Negotiations for a new coal contract have been under way for six months without any hint of a break. Several prominent Illinois operators have been reported impatient for a settlement. That's what makes the Chicago site of the policy meet significant.

A settlement with the Illinois operators would create a coal situation just as developed in steel when Bethlehem, second largest producer, made peace with the steelworkers.

Lewis' announcement did not indicate such a development is in prospect. Actually his language was nearer to a hint toward tightening of strike lines.

Said the typical cryptic Lewis message to UMW district presidents:

"The policy committee will exercise its discretionary powers in the authorization of further procedures."

There were a few more words but interest centered on this statement. Lewis has hinted that 100,000 of his diggers still in the pits might join the strike in his fight for more pay and more welfare benefits — yet unspecified.

Begin Tests To See If Bride Died Of Sleeping Pills

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A coroner's pathologist began tests today to determine whether sleeping pills caused the death of Mrs. Bonnie Marie Reynier, 25, of Paris, Ill. Her semi-nude body was found in a hotel room this morning.

She was the bride of John Reynier, 24, a salesman. There were four months ago at Henderson, Ky. Reynier told police he found his wife's body in the hotel room when he sought to latch up a night club quarrel. Police Lt. William Burke said Reynier told him Mrs. Reynier walked out of the night club after an argument over what they should order.

He said that when he couldn't get into the hotel room at 1 a.m., he slept with Bernard Connelly, a friend, but returned to the room at 7 a.m. and broke the door open when there was no response inside.

The body, clad only in panties, was lying on the floor, partly covered by a telephone from which the receiver had been removed. Two empty bottles, which had contained sleeping pills prescribed for her husband were found beside Mrs. Reynier's body.

DIES OF POLIO

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Barbara Mae Hartman, 4, of Percy, Ill., died in St. Mary's hospital last night of polio. She was the 21st person to die of the disease in the hospital since June 1.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Ashland—Howard Mullen, who underwent a surgical operation at St. John's hospital in Springfield, is reported to be seriously ill.

Blasts Rip Postoffice Building In Capital

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A series of explosions ripped the two top floors of the $11,000,000 postoffice department building today. Hours later, two women employees were still unaccounted for.

The heaviest of the blasts occurred a few minutes after a fire alarm had cleared the building of most of its 3,000 occupants. Some were employees of the postoffice department, others of the Federal Communications Commission which is housed in the same structure.

The fire had been discovered in an electrical transformer room on the top floor of the eight-story building, which stands on Pennsylvania avenue four blocks from the White House.

An investigation as to exactly what happened was still going on tonight. One government engineer said a short-circuit may have caused the oil in which a transformer is immersed to become overheated and explode.

The last and most violent of the series of explosions hurled valuable yet.

Says U.S. Spending To Be New Record

Jet Crashes Into Sea; Rescuers Find Pilot Drowned

San Diego, Calif., Nov. 1.—(AP)—A screaming jet plane carried its pilot into the sea today and for nearly four hours the supposedly sealed cockpit held the secret of his fate. He was finally taken out dead.

Rescue workers, who struggled desperately against time, had hoped the normally pressurized cabin was tight and that oxygen was keeping the pilot alive.

The oxygen mask was still hanging loosely on his face when the body was recovered.

But a break in the submerged cabin had permitted water to enter. The naval air station public information office announced examination disclosed death was from drowning.

Name of the victim was withheld pending notice to relatives.

The plane—a navy training version of the air force's F-80 Shooting Star—hit the sea off the North Island Naval Air Station and near the entrance to San Diego bay.

Defense Lawyer For Tucker Hits US Loan To Kaiser

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A defense lawyer in the Tucker mail fraud and conspiracy trial charged today another auto firm "got $40,000,000 from the government" after failing to live up to advance ballyhoo about its car.

The statement was made by William Kirby, attorney for Preston Tucker, one of the eight Tucker corporation defendants.

Kirby was questioning Carl Scheurman, a government witness, on cross-examination. Yesterday, Scheurman testified that the Tucker automobiles produced had no hydraulic torque converters, disk brakes or radical fuel injection systems—features claimed in advance advertising.

"Didn't Kaiser-Frazer announce a front wheel drive?" Kirby asked the witness. The reply was "yes."

"Did they ever put it out?"

"No."

"And they got $44,000,000 from the government for doing the same thing that got these defendants indicted," Kirby said.

There were loud objections from government prosecutors, and Judge Walter J. LaBuy directed that the references to Kaiser-Frazer be erased from the trial record.

Packard Motor Co. Announces Profits

Detroit, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Packard Motor Car Co. had net earnings of $9,111,598 for the first nine months of 1949.

This was equal to 61 cents a share and compared with $9,488,326 or slightly more than 63 cents a share in the like period of 1948.

The Packard statement, issued today showed consolidated net sales of $187,197,873 in the nine-month period ended last Sept. 30. This was a new high in volume for any comparable peacetime term in Packard history. It compared with $164,325,977 in the like 1948 period.

Truman Revises Budget; Expects 5 Billion Deficit

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—President Truman today predicted that federal spending this fiscal year will reach a peacetime record high of $43,500,000,000 and leave the government $5,500,000,000 in the red for the 12 months ending next June 30.

The president, revising his January budget estimates following completion of congressional action on his proposals, put the present budget picture in this basic light:

Expenditures, $43,500,000,000; receipts, $38,000,000,000; deficit, (the amount by which spending will exceed income) $5,500,000,000.

The president's new figures reflected a $1,600,000,000 increase in prospective outlays since early January, when congress was just starting.

Income 3 Billion
The revised estimate of income was $3,000,000,000 less than the January total.

The new $5,500,000,000 deficit estimate compared with a $900,000,000 deficit projected in the January budget message.

"The decline of seven per cent in anticipated receipts arises from the moderate drop in prices, money incomes, and corporate profits since the original estimate was made," said a statement issued by budget director Frank Pace by direction of the president.

In the last completed fiscal year, ended June 30 this year, the government's deficit was $1,800,000,000 and marks the second consecutive year in the red.

Greatest Deficit Ever
The forecast deficit is greater than that of any peacetime fiscal year except the one which ended June 30, 1941, when outlays on the defense program led to a deficit of $6,159,000,000.

The biggest deficit before that was $4,425,000,000 recorded in the 12 months ended June 30, 1936, when the government was still "pump priming" to break through the depression.

In those days, the federal debt stood at about $36,059,000,000. The current deficit will increase a national debt already at the $236,000,000,000 level.

Veep Wants Quiet, Simple Wedding

St. Louis, Nov. 1.—(AP)—"We want it to be as simple and quiet as possible," said Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley today as she disclosed plans for her wedding to Vice President Alden W. Barkley here Nov. 16.

The only guests will be members of their immediate families. President Truman has a conflicting engagement.

The marriage ceremony will be performed in the chapel of St. John's Methodist church, by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt. He will be assisted by the Rev. Albea Bodbold, pastor of the church.

Barkley's son, David M. Barkley of Paducah, Ky., will be his best man. Mrs. Hadley has not yet said who will stand with her.

DECLARE DIVIDEND

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Central Illinois Public Service company directors today declared a dividend of 30 cents a share on common stock, payable Nov. 30, to stockholders of record Nov. 15.

Barnacles, if allowed to collect in great numbers on the hull of a ship will create such a drag that the vessel's speed may be cut 50 per cent.

LaSalle, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Miss Tessie R. McLain, former LaSalle newspaper publisher, died today. Miss McLain published the LaSalle Daily Post from 1906 until 1925, when she sold it to Preston F. Grandon, now publisher of the Sterling Daily Gazette.

Monticello, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Charles McIntosh, 79, Piatt county superintendent of schools since 1898, died today in Kirby hospital here. He had been confined since Oct. 10 by complications which developed after he broke his leg.

McIntosh was one of the oldest elected public officials in Illinois from the standpoint of continuous service. Elected to 12 consecutive four year terms, he never had an opponent in the Republican primary after his initial campaign.

Marion, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Two-year-old Mickey Merz is on his way to Washington and a sorely-needed heart operation. He's a blue baby—a condition caused by a heart malformation.

His mother, Jeanette, 30, appealed for army help because she lacked the money to follow their doctor's advice that the boy should go on an operation quickly. She explained that her husband, Staff Sergeant Howard Merz, had not been paid since he was transferred from Camp Campbell, Ky., to Tokyo, several weeks ago.

The army answered her appeal.

West Frankfort, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—John Rodenbush, dean of Southern Illinois coal mining executives, died today at 70. He was production superintendent for the Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin coal company mines in Franklin county.

Morris, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—This city of 7,500 population in the heart of a coal strip mining area 65 miles southwest of Chicago, has just about run out of coal.

Stockpiles at the strikebound strip mines are exhausted. The city's three largest coal dealers say their supplies are gone and no relief is in sight.

About half the city's homes heat with coal. Several are burning wood, their coal gone. Some houses are cold, with early morning temperatures near freezing.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—State Auditor Benjamin O. Cooper reported today that the 507 Illinois State Banks in operation Sept. 15 had total resources of $3,408,691,919 and deposits of $3,209,911,991 for 506 banks June 30.

Man Shot In Cafe; Gunmen, Victim Both Disappear

Philadelphia, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Stalking into a crowded restaurant, two men yanked a portly customer from his seat at a table today, shot him through the head and fled after a scuffle.

The injured man, blood streaming from a hole in his head, staggered from the restaurant and disappeared. Neither the assailants nor the victim have been seen since.

From sketchy reports of eyewitnesses police reconstructed this version of the strange shooting that turned the North Philadelphia eatery into a turmoil shortly before dawn.

An attractive woman stood with the two gunmen outside the restaurant. They peered through the brightly lit window.

"There they are in there," the woman said. "That one at the end of the table in the gray suit—he's the one who insulted me."

In went the gunmen, the woman following. They grabbed the man in the gray suit. He was about 50, short, stout and broad-shouldered. The injured man's four companions fled as the first shot was fired. The victim fought back and a second bullet missed the mark.

Customers and restaurant employees hurled chairs and sugar containers at the assailants as they backed out through the revolving door dragging the injured man with them. Outside they clubbed the victim with blackjacks, then jumped into a convertible with the woman and disappeared.

Restaurant manager Joseph Valonis said "I could see a hole in the man's head as big as an apple."

Fire Disrupts Phone Service

Newton, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—A fire damaged a building in Newton today and burned through two main telephone cables, interrupting service on several long distance and hundreds of local lines.

Officials of the Illinois Commercial Telephone company said service probably will be restored tomorrow.

Damage to a building housing the Newton Ice and Cold Storage Co. and an Electrical Appliance shop was estimated at $5,000.

Bolivian Fighter, Airliner Collide; 55 Persons Killed

Vice Admiral F. P. Sherman Named Chief Of Naval Operations

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Vice Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, known as a trouble-shooting "compromise expert," was named today to succeed Admiral Louis Denfeld as chief of naval operations in the row over national defense.

The White House said President Truman will give Sherman his commission as the Navy's No. 1 admiral tomorrow.

The promotion jumps Sherman over the heads of nine other admirals who rank him in seniority, including four who have full four-star status. Sherman, 53, a native of Merrimack, N.H., rates three stars at present.

The new uniformed chief of the Navy was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1917. He was second man in his class of 203 midshipmen. During World War II, he commanded the carrier Wasp which was sunk in the Solomon islands battle in the Pacific in September, 1942. He was the last man to leave the big flat-top before it sank under Japanese bombs and shell fire.

Sherman had been rated the top prospect in Pentagon speculation ever since Denfeld was ousted by Mr. Truman, on secretary Matthews' recommendation, last Thursday. The removal of Denfeld followed his outspoken criticism of top defense policies which he aired in testimony before the House Armed Services committee.

Among other things, Denfeld charged that under the unified defense setup—particularly under the increased powers given to the civilian—Secretary of defense by congress—the Navy was being cut down to a mere "convoy and anti-submarine service."

Recalled to Washington over the weekend, Sherman flew home on a 5,000-mile trip from his post as commander of the U.S. 6th task force in the Mediterranean.

The comparatively youthful new naval chief—he just turned 53 on

Oct. 30—won his reputation as a compromiser in 1946 at a time when large sections of the Navy were opposing passage of a law to unify the armed services.

With Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad of the air force, Sherman helped frame the compromise legislation which eventually became the unification act.

Sherman won out over older, high-ranking admirals despite some criticism from congress members in advance of his selection. Rep. Hardy (D-Va.), a member of the House Armed Services committee, said last week that with Sherman as chief of naval operations "I fear the Navy henceforth will concede to the air corps even though its interests are adversely affected."

However, Sherman is known as a "Flying Admiral" because of his interest in naval aviation, and some navy men said they expect he will fight to keep the Navy's air arm powerful.

Engel Convicted Of Swindling Rich Chicago Widow

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Sigmund (Sam) Engel, international love swindler who says he made a million dollars profit from romance, was convicted today of fleecing a Chicago widow of $87,000.

The 74 year old Romeo, who bragged he'd never have to spend another day in jail, faces a possible prison term of one to 10 years.

A criminal court jury of six men and six women deliberated only an hour and 15 minutes before finding him guilty of operating a confidence game.

Engel, who police say has courted and fleeced widows for more than 50 years, was visibly shaken by the verdict.

He removed his glasses and rubbed his eyes, which appeared red and tired.

Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39, who signed the complaint against Engel, jumped to her feet after the verdict and said: "I'm grateful to everybody. Then she slumped to the floor in a faint.

A motion for a new trial was set for hearing Nov. 9. Engel's new bond was set at $15,000.

Police Hold Man Who Gave Girl, 16, Ride To Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A 16-year-old Tennessee girl whose trip to Chicago resulted in the arrest of her man traveling companion said today "he didn't do anything wrong."

Betty Jo Barnett, 16, of Harriman, Tenn., being held by juvenile authorities for return to her home, said she came to Chicago because she couldn't avoid quarrels with her mother.

She said she asked Henry Eachus, 25, of Rockwood, Tenn., to let her hide as a passenger in his car. Eachus and the girl were seized last Saturday by police at the request of Roane county authorities who took police here, they held an abetment warrant.

Eachus, locked up in a detective bureau cell pending arrival of an officer from Tennessee to take him back to Roane county, declined to discuss his predicament.

Eachus and the girl were living near each other in separate rooms when they were picked up.

Will Charter Right Wing Group For Some

Cleveland, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The CIO convention's resolution committee tonight voted to expel the leftist-led United Electrical workers and the United Farm Equipment workers.

The committee left for later action the fate of nine or 10 other unions headed by leaders the CIO right-wing majority accuses of pro-communist sympathies.

UE Is Third Largest
The UE is the CIO's third largest affiliate and claims 450,000 members but pays per capita on only $75,000. The Farm Equipment workers have about 20,000.

It also was announced that the CIO will charter a right-wing group within the UE to organize a separate union.

The committee's recommendation on the UE and FE expulsion will be submitted to the convention tomorrow and is expected to receive thumping approval from the right wing majority.

The convention, in a day of torrid oratory, voted to bar communists from the policy making executive board.

To Act On Other Changes
Tomorrow, delegates will act on other changes in the CIO constitution, permitting the board to expel unions led by communist sympathizers.

The resolutions committee, headed by the United Auto Workers chief, Walter P. Reuther, held a special meeting tonight to deal with the UE and FE.

All 12 leftist unions are threatened with ouster, but the Reuther committee action makes the UE and FE the first to walk the plank.

The UE took the initiative earlier in the day by pulling its delegates from the convention floor and announcing it would withhold future per capita taxes to the CIO. This was tantamount to quitting the CIO.

Train Pilots In Art Of Being Shot Out Of Airplane

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 2.—(AP)—United States air force pilots are being trained here to gain confidence in the pilot-ejection seat for high speed aircraft.

The training program is under way at air material command headquarters, Wright-Patterson air force base.

Officers at the base said today they hope familiarity with the "zip-seat" will give the pilot confidence in the gadget and take away much of the mystery which has surrounded it.

They explain pilots who have no acquaintance with the new escape mechanism are somewhat awed by the prospect of one day having to pull the lever that will catapult them out of a disabled plane.

Actual use of the seat is intended only for extreme emergencies.

Here's an outline of the training program:

Training begins with a study of films showing how difficult it is to crawl out of a plane at high speed.

Next the pilots study tests made in the centrifuge showing the effect of gravitational pull. They learn the greater g-pull of the ejection seat is harmless because it lasts for too short of period of time to markedly affect the movement of blood through the body.

HOPE DEFERRED
(Manchester, England Guardian)
The United States senate has dealt rather shabbily with the thousands of displaced persons in Europe who are still hoping to start a new life across the Atlantic. It has put off until next session any action on a bill, which it has had before it since January and which the house of representatives has already passed, to increase the scale and ease the conditions of admittance.
The present law permits 205,000 displaced persons to enter within a 2-year period. But it is so hedged about with restrictions about the provenance of the immigrants, the date at which they left their homes, and the kind of work which they have done that it seems doubtful whether even that modest number will have been admitted when the time-limit has expired.
The amending bill would have allowed another year's grace; would have raised the total number acceptable to 339,000; and would have removed some of the existing restrictions which bear with special hardship on those who fled from home under Communist rather than Nazi pressure.
The vote in the senate for shelving the bill until next session was 35 to 30, with five paired on each side. More Democrats voted for delay than stood by the administration. The Republicans, too, were split. Now the whole business must be begun over again next year.
It seems strange that the senators should be so generous (as they are) in helping Europe with money and what it will buy, and so comparatively stingy in letting luckless Europeans come in.

Greene Co. Feeders Hear Market Expert
Carrollton—Jerry Sitolo, assistant director of Armour's Livestock Bureau in Chicago, was the guest speaker at the silver anniversary banquet of the Greene County Cattle Feeder's association, held Saturday evening in the Knights of Columbus hall. In his address, Sitolo stated that the cattle cycle is in an upswing, but that the recent high of 41 cents reached on the Chicago market is not a true top as that was beef sold for night clubs and restaurants. He felt that beef should be taken out of the luxury brackets and kept in a competitive market and that there should be a closer tieup between dealers and producers in the revolt against the heavy cuts of meat.
Sitolo stated that the use of DDT among dairy cattle should not be practiced and that it is not safe to use DDT on beef cattle shortly before marketing. In the one, the chemical poisons the milk and in the other the beef is affected to a certain degree should the animal be butchered shortly after an application of the DDT.
He also discussed the hog situation, stating that there are 96 million hogs this year, the largest in history with the exception of war years. Despite the use of lard for the curing of bacon, both in adults and children trend is away from the short fat hog producing much fat to the long type of hog. A hog weighing 300 pounds produces twice as much lard as a 220-pound hog, therefore the smaller hog is now in demand. A new drug made from the pituitary gland of the hog is now being used to combat various diseases of the rheumatic type. The need for hogs will be greater than in the past as now it takes 400,000 hogs to produce a very small quantity of the drug.
In addition to the revolution in the type of hog produced and the use of the hogs for other than food purposes a change is also being made in the cattle feeding program. The cattle are now fed by the calendar and a dehydrated feeding program is being used that enables the cattle feeder to market his cattle in a shorter period of time and with a better quality of beef than in the past.

Boyle's Column A Cancer Operation On Color Television

New York—(P)—Watching a surgeon rescue a dying woman from the tentacles of cancer is an unforgettable sight.
I had this experience over the weekend along with a number of newsmen and 1,000 doctors invited to the demonstration by the American Cancer Society.
It was done by television, using a color process developed by the Columbia Broadcasting system. And it proved—whatever the immediate commercial future of color television may be—that this form of video aid is of value in teaching surgical techniques.
The viewing screens were set up in the Biltmore Hotel. The television camera itself was 25 blocks away, trained on an operating table in Memorial Hospital.
The surgeon was Dr. Alexander Brunswick, a famous cancer expert. The woman, about 51, was unidentified. She had agreed in advance to allow the operation to be televised, hoping it would be of value to the assembled doctors.
"This is in no sense a cure," explained Dr. Brunswick. "Her case is hopeless. Radiation has failed. She is in pain, and this operation will relieve that."
He spoke through a microphone attached to his throat. The camera showed only his hands and the patient's abdomen as he swiftly made his incision.
Opening the body cavity, he discovered the malignant tumor had spread through most of the woman's lower organs. The tissues stood out in clear relief under color of television. But whenever the camera switched back to black-and-white, they became almost indistinguishable.
Quickly, cutting here, putting clamps there, he freed the malignant mass. Its size drew a gasp from the audience. To remove it the surgeon had to take out the cervix, bladder, and part of the colon and intestine.
Removed All Visible
"Now we have taken out all the tumorous tissue visible to the naked eye," said Dr. Brunswick. His inference was clear—there were other malignant areas impossible to reach with the knife. The blue-black cancer spots on the excised organs showed clearly on the screen.
"There is some question as to whether radical operations of this nature are worthwhile," the surgeon said, calmly, as he sewed up the severed blood vessels.
"But we learn something from them. Also some patients have lived more than two years—are still alive—after such operations."
"The patient is relieved of pain and restored to usefulness—for a time at least. In any case we don't philosophize about it too much. We do for each individual what we can." And the picture faded from the screen as the surgeon went about his routine task of sewing up his patient.

The bride was attired in a taupe gray slipper satin two-piece dress, embroidered in gold metallic thread and seed pearls. Her accessories were navy and her corsage was of red rosebuds.
The immediate families of the couple were the only guests.
After a wedding dinner served at the home of the bride for members of the families, the couple left on a short wedding trip.
For the past two and a half years, the bride has been secretary to Harry G. Story, Jacksonville attorney. The bridegroom is employed as a butcher at the Kroger store in Waverly.

India May Curb Hunger Strike

Lucknow, India—(P)—They're making things tougher for would-be hunger-strikers in the United Provinces. The provincial Congress Party Council has announced that party members may not strike on "frivolous" issues without getting the council's okay first. The council took the action after reviewing 10 cases of hunger-strike by congressmen in the past year. Two of the strikers were protesting against alleged corruption in the Congress party.
The hunger-strike has been a weapon in India for generations and its popularity has not faded with Mahatma Gandhi's death. Usually, the hunger striker announces that he is about to undertake a "fast unto death" in protest against an unhappy state of affairs. No one has starved to death in recent years, however; a government official usually "intervenes" about the time the striker has worked up a strong appetite and convinces him that things will be set right.

The new aqueduct is 85 kilometers long with a capacity of 34,560 tons every 24 hours.

Ex-Negro Slave, 105, Sees Fulfillment Of Curse By Itinerant Preacher In 1820

Oliver, Ga., Nov. 1.—The lone survivor of Jacksonboro—the accursed town that was—died. Out of that once damned, now desolate region on Beaver Creek came word today that Richard Bryant, 105-year-old ex-negro slave, had died Friday night. He was the only man alive who

He saw the terrible curses of a little hunchbacked itinerant minister, Lorenzo Dow, come true. He saw the once bustling town disappear, house by house, store by store until one house remained—the house specifically spared by Dow.

Residents Gave Up

When Bryant was just three years old, he saw the white residents give up in despair at the freaks of fire, water and wind and move lock, stock and barrel five miles away to found another town, Sylvania.

It was in 1794 that Jacksonboro, half way between Augusta and Savannah, was founded. It flourished as a coach stop and county seat. Jacksonboro was a rough, tough town near the hill country in a rough, tough time.

For 36 years the town went its boisterous way. Then in 1830 Dow drifted down and called upon its citizens to repent. People laughed. They pelted him with eggs. And they would not let him preach.

Tormented Minister

The tormented little minister with the burning eyes turned this way and that until a powerful man, Seaborn Goodall, gave him sanctuary in his home. When the purposeful Dow strode to meet his tormentors again the following day, a mob drove him to rustic bridge and bade him never return.

Scornfully, Dow paused on the span, removed his shoes and shook the dust of Jacksonboro from his feet.

He turned and swore that God would bring swift vengeance, the same that overtook Sodom and Gomorrah. The townsfolk laughter again.

Unacceptable Mishaps

But then, unaccountably, fires broke out, windstorms tore off roofs, the placid creek through the middle of the town became wild and unruly, sweeping away homes in flash floods. The remaining settlers finally gave up and moved their county seat to Sylvania. Time removed all traces of the town but the Goodall place which still stands.

Here Bryant was born into slavery. He was a young man when Sherman marched through, burning all houses along his route—but the Goodall home.

The night old "uncle" Richard died, so they say, by the light of a flickering kerosene lamp, there was an awful rustling in the trees. And an old hound howled.

The Power that made Buick Famous

If you want to know what's "the new-est thing" in automobile engines, look at the Buick engine pictured here, and you'll see the words "valve-in-head."

But it happens that this isn't new with Buick. As a matter of fact, the valve-in-head engine was invented back in 1902—U. S. Patent No. 771095—and immediately, Buick adopted the principle, which became the first in a long string of "Buick firsts."

Not everyone went for the idea—then. In spite of the fact that this engine "breathes" more freely—gets fuel in and exhaust gases out more easily—others hung onto their pet ideas.

Then came the airplane, with its need for maximum power from every drop of fuel—and every maker of internal combustion airplane engines adopted the valve-in-head principle.

And more recently—with the hope that higher-octane fuels will become available for motor cars—a lot of automotive engine designers are taking a new look at the valve-in-head idea.

But just for the record, we'd like to point out that Buick got there first.

And ever since, Buick has gone steadily ahead, building up a name as "valve-in-headquarters." Buick engineers reshaped pistons to put Fireball wallop in these engines. They stepped up compression ratios as fast as better fuels came along.

So perhaps you'll want to remember, when you hear the term "valve-in-head," that this is the type of power that made Buick famous.

If others want to climb on the bandwagon, we say "more power to them"—and no pun is intended.

But Buick has been doing more with valve-in-head right from the start.

And—we might add—it stands to reason that Buick is not through making this type of engine better and better.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Care Of Kidney Stones Requires Cure In 2 Stages

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

The passing of a kidney stone can be entirely painless but quite often the pain is terrific. A kidney stone may have existed for many years without producing any pain or other symptoms. Most of them grow slowly and do not cause trouble until they begin to move down the urinary passage-ways.

These things which we call stones are not really stones at all but groups of crystals which form into round or irregularly shaped balls. They start in an irregularly shaped space inside the kidney which opens into the ureter or passageway which leads down to the bladder. When stones start down this small passageway, they scrape on the tender sides of the duct, causing spasm and bleeding. It is this which produces the terrific pain and which frequently blocks the flow of urine and causes it to back up behind the stone.

RELIEVING THE PAIN

There are at least two stages in the treatment of kidney stones. The first is to care for the immediate pain and other symptoms. It is not safe to leave a stone permanently in the ureter, as damage can be done to the kidney itself.

The location of the stone can be discovered by proper equipment and the use of the X-ray. It is possible to assist in the passage of the stone by cutting or other measures. When the pain is severe, it is necessary to relieve the patient and this involves the use of pain-killing drugs, sometimes in large quantities.

It is important to know what kind of stones are involved so that the doctor can tell which foods should be allowed and which forbidden in order to try to prevent new ones from forming. Chronic infections should be treated. Vitamins are sometimes added to the diet.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

An alley like this is an asset!

You can have it—at low cost—with CONCRETE

There's no reason why alleys should be dirty and unsightly with mud holes when it rains and dust bowls other times. A clean, sanitary concrete alley costs surprisingly little. And what a difference it makes! Easy to keep clean, it encourages neighborhood neatness...invites the home owner to make the back yard as attractive as the front.

A concrete alley adds to property values and provides an all-weather driveway to your garage. Concrete alleys are best and they will serve you for a generation at negligible upkeep cost.

Get together with your neighbors. Ask your city officials to include concrete alley pavement in their plans for needed improvements.

South Side Circle Has Program On 'Frozen Foods'

The meeting of the South Side Circle, which took place at the home of Mrs. George Fuhr, 216 East College avenue, was highlighted with a program on "Frozen Foods," presented by Mrs. R. G. Baker.

Introduced by program chairman, Mrs. J. E. Underforink, Mrs. Baker traced the history of freezing foods, stating that Clarence Birdseye was the first to discover the process, quite by accident.

Mrs. Baker recounted the numerous uses for the deep freezer, placing special emphasis upon the time and energy this device saves housewives by enabling them to prepare meals much in advance of the day they are to be served.

Production of deep freezers is expected to reach the one million mark this year, as compared with 800,000 manufactured last year.

Mrs. Baker said that the first locker plant was opened in 1930. Thirteen million people are now served by these plants. In private homes throughout the nation, there are 1,250,000 deep freezers in use. According to Mrs. Baker, 13,000 different foods have been test-frozen.

In connection with this topic, Mrs. M. A. Summers presented a short talk, entitled "How I Use My Home Freezer."

Responding to roll call, 17 members and three guests named their favorite frozen food. The guests were Mrs. M. S. Zachary, Mrs. George Riggs and Miss Beatrice Robertson.

A short business session was conducted by the first vice president, Mrs. W. T. Scott, acting in the absence of the president, Mrs. E. A. Schoedack.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Emma Hunter.

Murray Invites Rest Of Industry To "Come Along"

Cleveland, Nov. 1.—With the steel strike settled in plants of Bethlehem Steel Co., CIO President Philip Murray today invited the rest of the industry to "come along" with the same kind of settlement.

Murray spoke from the platform of the CIO's national convention hall. As he talked, Bethlehem mills employing 80,000 workers were firing up for a resumption of operations.

Murray reported the settlement, reached last night, in a talk to CIO delegates. Calling the month-old steel walkout "the most magnificent strike in the history of labor," he said:

"I use this platform to invite the recalcitrant steel companies to come along now and negotiate a Bethlehem agreement with us. It now is the duty of the balance of the industry to settle."

In talking with reporters, Murray said with a smile, "We always expect our friends in U. S. Steel to do a little better than the rest of them."

Bethlehem, the nation's second largest steel producer, shattered precedent last night by coming to terms ahead of "Big Steel."

Streets To Be "Salted" During Icy Weather

Salt instead of cinders is expected to provide traction for automobiles and trucks in this city's business district when the streets become icy this winter.

"Gritty cinders will no longer crunch under the feet of pedestrians at intersections. A thin application of quarter-inch salt is expected to do the job of melting ice and render safe, at least for those who watch their step.

"The highway committee recommended the purchase of a car load of salt for this purpose," Alderman Kelly told the council Monday night. "We believe salt will be more satisfactory than cinders, and would like to try it out this winter."

The council voted on motion of Alderman Brune, seconded by Alderman Haneline, to authorize the highway committee to go ahead with plans for ordering salt.

Car Load Costs $432
Alderman Kelly said the Morton Salt Co. quoted a price of $432 for a car load of quarter-inch salt, the kind which has been used with good effect in keeping highways passable in icy weather. He said a number of cities have adopted the use of salt for principal streets and busy inter-

AP Selects All Star Baseball Team; 6 Are From AL, 4 From NL

By Joe Reicher
New York, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Six players from the American league and four from the National circuit make up the 1949 major league All-Star team selected for the Associated Press Writers Association of America.

Only six of the 16 big league clubs, three in each circuit, are represented in the fourth annual All-Star squad.

The world champion New York Yankees won two berths as did the National league champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

However, both had to yield to Boston's second place Red Sox, who topped all clubs with three representatives—Ted Williams in the outfield and southpaw Mel Parnell and right-hander Ellis Kinder in the pitching department. One man from Detroit, one from Pittsburgh and one from the St. Louis Cardinals complete the team.

Only two of the ten men selected are holdovers from the 1948 All-Star team. They are Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals outfielder, and William D. Hall, Detroit pitcher. The latter is the only performer to be elected to all four teams since the poll was inaugurated in 1946.

No player was selected unanimously. George Kell, Detroit, third baseman, who tossed out Williams for the unofficial American league batting title by a fraction of a percentage point, was named on all but three ballots to win the third base position hands down. Williams missed out on four of the 116 ballots cast.

Tom Henrich At First Base
Joining Kell in the infield are the Yankees' Tommy Henrich at first base and Phil Rizzuto at shortstop, and Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson at second base. Robinson won with 108 votes. Henrich drew 97 and Rizzuto 83. Henrich also received five outfield votes.

The smallest number of votes by a winner was garnered by Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner. The majors' home run king received 68 votes to beat out the Cards' Enos Slaughter, the Yankees' Joe DiMaggio and six other competitors for the third outfield position. Musial had an even 100 votes to join Kell, Williams and Robinson as the only athletes to poll 100 or more votes. The Cardinals ace also won three first base calls.

Roy Campanella of the Dodgers, who won the catching berth easily, was only one shy of the century figure. Only one vote separated the Red Sox pitching twins. The left-handed Parnell, who won 25 games and lost only eight, was named on 78 ballots. The right-handed Kinder, with a league-leading 22-6 mark, received 77 votes.

The All-Star Team:
First base — Tommy Henrich, Yankees.
Second base — Jackie Robinson, Dodgers.
Third base — George Kell, Tigers.
Shortstop — Phil Rizzuto, Yankees.
Left field — Ted Williams, Red Sox.
Center field — Stan Musial, Cardinals.
Right field — Ralph Kiner, Pirates.
Catcher — Roy Campanella, Dodgers.
Right-handed pitcher — Ellis Kinder, Red Sox.

The team boasts both major league batting champions in Kell and Robinson, the two home run kings in Kinder and Williams, and the two biggest winners in pitchers Parnell and Kinder. The outfield presents three power hitters who have socked a total of 133 home runs and have driven in 410 runs among them.

The Vote of the Writers Follows:
First base—Henrich, Yankees, 97; Hodges, Dodgers, 14; Musial, Cardinals, 3; Goodman, Red Sox and Waitkus, Phils, 1 apiece.
Second base—Robinson, Dodgers, 108; Schoendienst, Cardinals, 5; Doerr, Red Sox, 3; Gordon, Indians, 1 apiece.
Third base — Kell, Tigers, 113; Pesky, Red Sox; Dillinger, Browns, and Gordon, Giants, 1 apiece.
Shortstop—Rizzuto, Yankees, 83; Stephens, Red Sox, 19; Reese, Dodgers, 13; Joost, Athletics, 1.
Outfield—Williams, Red Sox, 112; Musial, Cardinals, 100; Kiner, Pirates, 68; Slaughter, Cardinals, 26; J. DiMaggio, Yankees, 15; D. D. Magglio, Red Sox, 12; Henrich, Yankees, 5; Wertz, Tigers, 3; Mitchell, Indians, 2; Furillo, Dodgers, and Thomson, Giants, 1 apiece.
Catcher—Campanella, Dodgers, 99; Tebbetts, Red Sox, 14; Berra, Yankees, and Hegan, Indians, 1 apiece.
Right-handed pitcher — Kinder, Red Sox, 77; Newcombe, Dodgers, 20; Lemon, Indians, 11; Reynolds and Raschi, Yankees, 3 apiece; Scarborough, Senators, 1.

MOUSE HUNT BY PLANE
Hamilton, Mont.—(AP)—Dr. J. K. Frenkel, pathologist at the federal laboratory here, needed some field mice for experiments. Ferd Fullerton and Lawrence Humble said they'd go hunting for him.

Fifteen minutes after they took in Fullerton's plane, they spotted harvesters working in a hay field. They landed in the field, borrowed a jeep and soon had a bag full of mice for Dr. Frenkel.

M.S.M. League Football Dope

By Bob Duerer

Do you want to go crazy, or just plain "nuts"? Well, try to figure out the M.S.M. conference race. It would drive anyone mad. Last week took the prize. In three conference games, this is how they went—Girard upset Virde 18-6; St. James battled unbeaten Waverly to a 13-13 draw and Auburn came close to bumping off Nokomis before losing 14-13.

Fans will be talking about that Girard-Virde game for a long time. Girard, who dreams of winning the conference or of going undefeated but always of knocking their bitter rivals from Virde, hadn't won a game all year before the Bulldogs came to town but a boy by the name of Ball took care of the situation as he tallied three times thus giving himself the honor of being the number one man in Girard, besting Pickard and Co.

Just mention St. James around Waverly and the fans start to shudder. It seems as if every time the Scotties are flying high, the Trademen come along and clip their wings. Unless the Trademen can bump off Nokomis themselves on Armistice day, this will be the second title that they have knocked Waverly out of the league in the last three years. Trademen Art Sitzberger scored all 13 points to tie Meiers, Mitchell, and Co.

Some poor quarterbacking gave Nokomis its 14-13 win over Auburn. Auburn was leading 13-7 with minutes to go and deep in Nokomis' territory when they elected to pass. An interception tells the rest of the story. Johnson, a sophomore paced Auburn while it was Reed and Chadwick as usual for Nokomis.

The game of this week is the Virde, Waverly tilt at Waverly Thursday night. Besides being a traditional feud, the game is a must for Waverly who wants to keep its fading title hopes alive and for Virde it is a must game if they want to get back to Virde because after that Girard defeat a posse may be formed to run them out if they blow this one.

To the fans around Jacksonville, the big game is the I.S.D.-Auburn fracas to be staged in Jacksonville Saturday afternoon. Fred Bradshaw's Trojans go into this game slightly favored, owning a 4-3 record. They dumped Petersburg 13-7, Tipolis 18-0, St. James 13-0, and Girard 12-7 while losing three heartbreakers to Waverly 19-12, Benld 13-0, and Nokomis 14-13. Auburn has a couple of underclassmen in A. Johnson and Handy who are plenty fancy. They also have Chambers and Presker who spell trouble in their backfield.

Two M.S.M. conference teams are also in action this week. Petersburg will be at Girard Friday night as Coach Bill Lewis' rejuvenated Redbirds hope to continue their winning ways. Nokomis will play hosts to Saint Elmo. Both games are non-conference affairs.

Sidelights — Waverly's offensive backfield against St. James all started with M-Meiers, Mitchell, McCrady, and Marshall. The two Handys, Auburn's freshman back and Waverly's junior tackle are cousins.

Waverly Flirts With Unbeaten Grid Year

By The Journal Courier Sports Editor

Little Waverly high school, situated in the southeastern corner of Morgan county, wasn't expected to have much in the way of a football team this year. Besides losing several gridiron acres off the fair-to-mediocre 1948 eleven, Waverly fans were hard-hit when their popular coach, Lyle King, resigned his post. They thought maybe the coach could foresee a dim future for athletics in Waverly high school—enrollment 160—and was "getting while getting was good."

Carroll Lowe, who spent the '48 school year as freshman-sophomore basketball coach at Pittsfield high school, was hired to replace King. The young mentor had enjoyed outstanding success with his kid cagers at Pike county, skimming through the winter unbeaten. He had never been tested under varsity fire, but Waverly had to take the chance that he would develop at least a fair ball club.

Seven seniors, three juniors and a freshman Glenn Marshall, fullback, comprise the starting lineup. Last year's men include Harlan Turner and Joe Fitzpatrick, ends; Floyd Dossett and Coyner Smith, guards; Lawrence Romagosa, tackle; Delbert Mitchell and William Meiers, halfbacks; Kenneth Hand, tackle; Stanley Sealers, center and Richard McCready, quarterback, are juniors.

Boast Capable Reserves
Jack Williams and Frank Gildrich, juniors, have played center and end on defense. John Sexton, sophomore has rotated at guard and Levern Lane and Bill Staton, seniors, have put in lots of time at backfield posts. Lane, a fast stepping ball-toter, sustained a leg injury early in the season and has been hampered the last five games.

Halfback Billy Meiers has proved sensational as a broken field runner. He has picked up 836 yards on the ground in 98 attempts for an average of 8.3 yards per try. Meiers has scored nine touchdowns. Against Auburn, he broke loose for scoring sprits of 58, 40 and 47 yards.

"Pickle" Mitchell, Scottie captain, calls the signals. His passing, running and line-backing has sparked the club all season, states coach Lowe. In the seven games he has gained 551 yards on the ground in 102 jaunts for a 5.4 average. He has passed for three touchdowns and chalked up five on the ground.

Line Play Excellent
When reviewing the team's line play, Lowe points with pride to husky Handy, Smith and Turner as being standouts on both offense and defense. Handy and Turner have set up many of Meiers' runs with timely blocks and Smith has broken through the line repeatedly to block kicks and smear enemy players before they materialize, the coach stated. The boys tangle with Virde in an important M.S.M. conference game on their home turf Thursday night. Can they hurdle the Virde eleven and then push Petersburg aside in the final game of the season, Waverly will have reached a near pinnacle of success, an unbeaten season.

Sparkled by the passing of Delbert "Pickle" Mitchell, the Waverly gang blanked a tough Roodhouse eleven 13-0 to open the season. The downtown coaches were revived with a bang and grid interest ran rampant through the town of 1,400 fans.

The gridgers didn't disappoint a one of their supporters in the games that followed, either. Finding added punch in their offensive attack, the slashing sprits of senior Bill Meiers, the team-nicknamed Scotties—blasted Kincaid 24-12, nipped Auburn 19-12, mashed I.S.D. of Jacksonville 16-6 and skunked Girard 19-0 for five successive victories. They hit a hull against Nokomis and came out of the tussle nursing a 6-6 of success, an unbeaten season.

Deflected Pass Saves Jacks From Deadlock; Play Havana Friday

By Bob Morris

Bob Kraushaar and the JHS charges got this final football week off on the right cadence when they nipped Rushville 13-12 on the Schuyler county club's gridiron last night. The Crimsons, who haven't enjoyed a fair share of grid success this season, will be battling to wind up the season on the right foot here Friday night when they play host to Havana.

Havana clipped Rushville 8-6 earlier in the season. Comparative scores would give the guests a one-point margin. However, a prediction based on comparative scores is no better than the wild guesses we usually toss at our readers. We'd like to give the Kraushaars a one touchdown advantage over Havana, maybe about 19-13. Coach Kraushaar has had his share of tough breaks this year and we'd like to see him finish the season on a victorious note. It couldn't happen to a nicer guy.

Meinhardt Little Routh is working steadily down on the east-side practice gridiron readying for Franklin's invading six-man club. When these two conference rivals clash under the JHS lamps Thursday night the ring of battle will probably be heard clear over in Moscow. Uncle Joe will think that we're involved in a Civil War for certain. We're not well acquainted with the facts in the Routh-Franklin feud but we do know that some sort of red-hot rivalry exists between the boys.

But Routh informs that they'll bear no grudge, if they win. The Rockets are even planning some sort of surprise for their Franklin counterparts should they come out of the fracas with their five game perfect record stretched to six straight conquests.

Efforts to organize a Jacksonville Athletic Booster Club got a big boost last night when 18 civic and sports minded local businessmen got together in the Elk clubrooms for the first meeting. Though only tentative courses of action were discussed, the men did agree on plans for organization. The next meeting will be held in the Elk hall Tuesday, Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m. Plans now call for an organization of at least 100 members. Those present at last night's meeting included Louis De, Ford Jackson, Jim Bunch, David Dickerson, Fred Reynolds, Jack Henry, Joe Boyle, T. J. Brennan, B. E. Stewart, G. Lukeman, J. Basil Ross, R. E. Spink, J. S. Whelan, Wm. Hoffman, Spike Wilson, Alan Smith, Bill Ranson, and Rex Henley.

Sticking with his habit of years, McCarthy made no rash or lengthy statement when talked to while raking leaves at his East Amherst, N. Y., farm.

"I hope we can make it next season," was all Joe had to say about Sox prospects for 1950.

PERSIMMON MENACE
Washington—(AP)—The Citizens Association of Anacostia, a section in southeastern Washington, is petitioning the District of Columbia government to do something about fruit falling from persimmon trees planted along three streets.

"Have you ever stepped on one?" asked Mrs. Carrie Smith, first vice president.

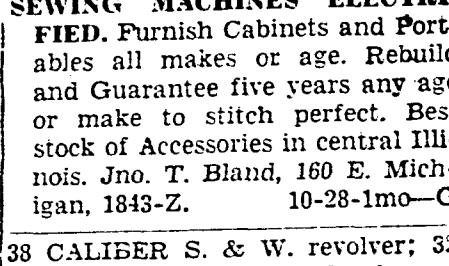

But conference statistics released today also disclosed that Iowa rates fifth offensively and a still more lowly seventh defensively.

On the attack, the Hawkeyes have averaged 275.5 yards gained per game, compared with the first-place average of 343.3 by Ohio State with whom Iowa shares the regular race leadership each with a 3-1 record.

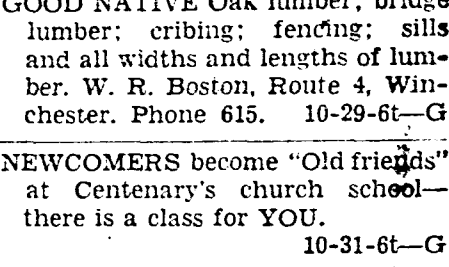

Defensively, Michigan is the pace-setter, yielding an average of 223.3 yards against three opponents. In this department, Iowa has surrendered 338.5 yards, an average of 63 yards per game more than the Hawkeyes have gained.

Minnesota which still has a mathematical title tie and Rose Bowl chance with a 2-2 record has held its four opponents to an average of 8.5 points per game, low mark in the conference.

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Stephanie's face turned to his pleadingly. "Come back tomorrow. Mr. Falter, will you?"

"OUR common sense should tell you that any collector worth his salt would recognize a piece like this one. The only thing I don't know about it is how you happen to have it."

"Suspicion is unbecoming even to attractive women, my dear Hagar!" He bowed as she jerked indignantly. "I'll say once again that I came by it honestly. And now, the main point: I have it and you want it. I happen to know that you have sufficient means to meet my price—provided your well-known—ah—prudence in money matters doesn't overcome your collector's mania."

Hagar stood tense, her eyes yearning. One fist was pressed tightly up under her nose, the pressure warping her angular face into gargoyle outlines.

Falter ceremoniously returned the cameo to its box and offered it to Hagar. She shook her head: "Hah. The old brush salesman trick. Tell me first how much?"

"I suppose I should ask $15,000. But, to you only, I'll say $12,000." She stamped her feet: "You know damned well I can't afford any such price!"

He raised his eyebrows: "For what is probably the rarest cameo on the market? For the piece that would make your collection almost priceless? For the finest carnelian carving ever to come out of Italy?"

"Since when did you become an authority on cameos?"

Falter blew a plume of smoke toward the ceiling: "One learns what one may find profitable. I could tell you even more about this pin. About how it figured in Napoleon's war with Russia, how it was used as a pawn for freedom by a Russian archduke. And about how, finally, it got back into the Russian crown jewels and was eventually brought to this country and sold to provide bread for an exiled duchess."

"You've boned up well, Falter. But, since I'm positive you didn't give the bread to the duchess, I still question where you got hold of the pin. I haven't got $12,000, or even $10,000 to buy it. She brushed her palms together with brisk finality. "You can take the pin and go up the street and sell it for $12,000! I've got an inventory to finish."

Falter shrugged, looked at the silver box regretfully and slipped it into his pocket.

"It seems I overestimated your good taste, Hagar, and underestimated your parsimony. Well, perhaps someday you may be able to feast your eyes on this cameo again—through the glass of some other collector's case."

As he sauntered toward the door, Stephanie dashed forward and pulled at his sleeve:

"No! Wait!"

Stephanie's face was turned up to his pleadingly. Her right hand tugged imploringly at his left elbow as she spoke:

"Come back tomorrow. Mr. Falter, will you? Come back tomorrow and bring the pin. Will you, please?"

He patted her shoulder. "I may stop in again—if I'm in the neighborhood."

He went out, closed the door quietly and walked away from the shop without a backward glance at the two staring women.

Hagar confronted Stephanie: "And what, may I ask, was the meaning of all that?"

The girl gave her a long, unwavering look, and Hagar drew

Justice In Purple Robe

Baltimore—(P)—Patrolman Edward Burns turned up at a police station in the wee hours of the morning with two prisoners charged with disturbing the peace—chiefly Burns' peace. The officer was wearing a white and purple bathrobe, and a mood to match.

He explained he had found a strange car parked in his parking lot space. So he blocked the culprits' exit with his own machine, then went to the adjacent apartment house where he lived and crept into bed.

A call from the night clerk hauled him out around 1 a. m. Burns found half a dozen men bouncing in his car in an effort to move it, a hot discussion and two arrests followed. A magistrate later fined the two $5 apiece after they explained they had thought the lot was unused during the night.

Now science has found that even rust can be put to good use, as insulation in motors and generators. Using a new steam oxidation process, engineers have succeeded in giving steel a uniform coat of rust. This thin film insulates the steel and makes it resistant to moisture and burnout.

Special Chapel Service For M'Murray Seniors

The senior class of MacMurray College was recognized in a special chapel service Monday morning. Preceding the address of President C. P. McClelland, the seniors sang their class hymn and two members of the class, Miss Barbara Dixon and Miss Eva Jo Schmidt, sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Henry Smart.

The subject of President McClelland's address was "The Way of Truth."

He reminded the students that what they had been doing in college was worth doing in itself and not merely as preparation for future activities and that, while undoubtedly much of the information they had gathered in college would be quickly forgotten, they should have no regrets about that.

"The main thing to be grateful for is that while you have been studying here, something good has happened to you, particularly to your minds," he said. "If you have been successful, you have learned to think more clearly and from now on you should always be able to apply reason to any situation. You have worked out the elements of a philosophy of life."

President McClelland discussed the nature of truth and what the search for truth has meant in the development of human beings and in civilization.

Emphasizing the moral as well as the intellectual element in truth, President McClelland said: "The teachings of Jesus, I should say, consist very largely of insights, statements of principle which are quite obviously true and need no proof unless it is the proof of their effects upon man's moral and spiritual life when put into practice. One of the sayings of Jesus had particular application to my theme this morning, namely, 'He that doeth the will of my Father shall know the doctrine.' This is a principle regarding the search for truth which it is important to keep in mind."

To Build Michigan Clinic In Memory Of Scott Native

Plans are underway in Petoskey, Mich., to perpetuate the memory of Dr. Floyd H. Lashmet, 51 year old native of Manchester, who was stricken with a fatal heart attack Monday, Oct. 24.

Dr. Lashmet was chief of staff of Lockwood General hospital. He died while attending a meeting held to further plans for a new hospital clinic. His friends are collecting funds to build the clinic.

Dr. Lashmet graduated from Illinois College and the University of Michigan school of medicine. He had practiced in Petoskey for 15 years.

The North Michigan Review stated editorially "he is going to be remembered in the way he would most like to be remembered."

"He will be honored by his friends, big and little, from all walks of life. He asked some time ago that people refrain from sending flowers."

"But he wouldn't ask that his countless friends refrain from sending money to build a complete clinical laboratory with every kind of convenience for aiding in the suffering of mankind."

"That's what 'Doc' Lashmet did all the years he was in northern Michigan. Perhaps he'd still be with us if he hadn't worked so hard."

Surviving him are his wife, Irene; two sons, Peter K., a junior at the University of Michigan, and Michael M., a junior in Petoskey high school; his mother, Mrs. E. A. ## Ernst Wolff, Liedersinger, Delights Series Audience

By Joachim Steuzel
Ernst Wolff, tenor, who was presented in a lieder recital in the opening concert of this year's MacMurray college series, is a man with a mission.

He wants to give his audience a comprehensive survey of one particular type of music and takes them on an excursion through the various eras of song-writing (for, after all, a "lied" IS a song), beginning with Beethoven and Mozart, and ending with Richard Rodgers.

There is much to be said in favor of such programming, especially if it is done with as much dignity and understanding as Mr. Wolff puts into his work. The audience is not merely entertained; it also learns—and most of us learned a good deal about a kind of music that is not very familiar to many and which is most enjoyable.

Mr. Wolff began with a group of early German works by Guck, Mozart, and Beethoven and devoted his second group entirely to Schubert. Both groups were done with a great deal of expression, and this, with the helpful translations that were printed on the program, made it possible to follow the German text, if one had but a slight familiarity with that tongue.

The third group, which to most represented the high-light of the evening, was given over to four German folk-songs, all in a light vein, culminating in the masterful and dramatic reading of the burlesque "Tailors' Shindig."

Mr. Wolff reciprocated to the hearty applause at the close of this group with an encore by Telemann, "The Right Mood."

In the second half Mr. Wolff was heard in lieder of more recent days. Besides the familiar "I Love Thee" by Grieg, which was sung in the artist's native German, the group included works by Richard Strauss, two modern American songs by Lowens and Schmidt, and works of the impressionist and modern periods by French and Italian composers. The audience was particularly impressed with Strauss' "Dedication," in which Mr. Wolff had his grand chance to show the astounding breadth and power of his voice.

Mr. Wolff—who, incidentally, accompanied himself most competently at the piano—was called back for three encores, "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes," "Oh What a Beautiful Morning," and a medley of familiar Strauss waltzes, for the piano.
